Listen to the accusations

Before Tucker Carlson's less than transparent termination from Fox News by the Murdock clan, he always said that if you want to know what Democrats are up to, listen to the accusations that they fabricate about others.

Invariably, Democrats are a manifestation of their own duplicity, and they engage in scurrilous disinformation with shameless abandon. The bigger the lie, the easier it is to persuade the dunderheaded masses.

So get ready for a pyroclastic flow of Democratic Party gaslighting on a scale not seen since 1930s fascism and never before seen in a U.S. presidential election, all in a desperate attempt to separate otherwise honest Americans from the truth by whatever means necessary.

Unfortunately, many thoughtful Democrats have been thoroughly misled by corrupt corporate media and their own miscreant leaders, and they are no longer capable of distinguishing between the smell of the rose garden and the stench of the hog pen.

Halstead is proposing a school bond issue of over $28 Million in spending.

That's roughly $8,600 in new debt for every man, woman and child in the 67056 and 67010 Zip Codes.
